Do you know the status of Tom Perrelli's research on the best state jurisdiction to issue a CID? He also mentioned to me that he had an adaptable draft CID for any of the AGs to use, but I haven't talked to Tom since D.C.

There has got to be some way to use this both with AGs and media. Should piss off the ags even more way google has treated them. And with media is there way to leverage that they call out google for not even attempting to do something when face book took voluntary step.
